DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

1. Claims 1-4 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7-16 and 18 of copending Application No. 10/256,139 in view of Corvasce et al. US 5,672,639.

The claims of the copending application limit the diene rubber to having the same "short fiber" and "particles" as claimed. The starch/plasticizer component claimed is not set forth in the claims. The Corvasce et al. patent shows the starch/plasticizer component functioning in tire tread compositions. It would be obvious to incorporate the starch/plasticizer of Corvasce et al. into the claimed tread composition.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EP 1 297 973 or Tahara et al. US 2002/0026003 each taken alone and further in view of Corvasce et al. 5,672,639.

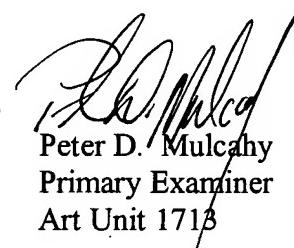

EP 1 297 973 and Tahara et al. US 2002/0026003 each show tread compositions having the claimed "short fibers" and "particles" incorporated therein. See the EP document in the abstract and Tahara et al at [0021]-[0039]. The only difference between the claims and the disclosure of the documents is the incorporation of the starch/plasticizer composite component. Starch/plasticizer composites have been known additives in tire tread compositions. The Corvasce et al. patent is evidence of this knowledge. One of ordinary skill would appreciate the advantages of adding the starch/plasticizer of Corvasce et al. into tread compositions as shown in the primary references. As such, the addition is prima facie obvious.
